Mediation:

Resolve Without the Courtroom

Our Mediation Practice Group offers a practical, efficient, and cost-effective alternative for clients seeking to avoid the financial burden, public exposure, and unpredictability that often accompany courtroom litigation.

Mediation presents an opportunity to resolve disputes—whether related to business, contracts, real estate, finance, or other commercial matters—before a case escalates to litigation, during the ongoing proceedings, or even after a trial to bypass the costly and time-consuming appeal process.

By opting for mediation, parties retain control over the outcome, often achieving solutions that are more comprehensive, creative, and timely than those typically available through court litigation.

Mediation offers a unique chance to resolve conflicts in a manner that is not only faster but also more tailored to the specific needs of all parties involved.

Preserve What Matters

In addition to commercial matters, mediation is an invaluable tool for resolving sensitive family disputes. Whether navigating guardianship proceedings, elder law issues, estate conflicts, or other situations where preserving relationships is just as important as reaching a fair and equitable resolution, mediation offers a compassionate and constructive approach to achieving this end.

A Smarter Alternative

With a neutral mediator guiding the process, parties retain control, work toward common ground, and often resolve matters faster and more affordably than in court.

The Firm

Serving the Long Island community since 1965, our firm has developed 18 areas of practice to meet our clients' legal needs. Clients may rely upon counsel from one practice area, or when necessary, a team of lawyers from different practice areas.

Certilman Balin takes an interdisciplinary approach to protect the interests of our clients, with an eye on avoiding unwarranted fees from excessive legal actions.
